MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT WEST COAST UNIVERSITY

Due to my inability to personal attend this important occasion of IOED; please read my following message to the members of this important event.

The International Organization for Educational Development (IOED) composed of institutional leaders, policy planners and senior diplomats engaged in advancing the international developmental initiatives and provide opportunities. OED's operational work is complemented by analytical studies that support the design of policies to reduce poverty. Development Organization aimed at the development through education. Countries continue work on a joint Skill and Entrepreneurship development program and in particular to supervise the distribution of aid for social development. The IOED is a worldwide body and fully accredited organization, established under a charter and constitutional protocol for educational and economic co-operation, functioning in accordance with the United Nations principles.

West Coast University (WCU) is incorporated in Panama, Costa Rica, Belize and USA as autonomous global university and its educational programs are accredited by accreditation agencies and as such are fully recognized internationally .WCU's Philosophy for the need of international Education is quite simple. We believe that we need to look at the plan for learning that in inherited within every human being. When this need is not recognized and fulfilled, it causes tension within people and w WCU believe that every human being has inherited right to learn or teach. We also believe that all human beings are equal and students of developing countries inherit the same right to study the similar courses that the students of developed countries are able to study. Not all interested students of developing countries can afford to come to study with the institutions of developed countries. As such, we feel the need to help such students by delivering them internationally accepted curriculum and courses through flexible delivery methods in their own homelands that they feel satisfied for their future personal and professional goals.

WCU is affiliated with IOED for its Cause of International development through education and wishes success and good luck for all educational ventures of IOED.

Sincerely,

Prof. S. Lloyd, MS (Eng), MBA, PhD, Ed.D
